Continuous Disclosure Policy

Booktopia Group Limited ACN 612 421 388 and its subsidiaries

1. Background

1.1 Overview

The Company is committed to effective communication with its customers, shareholders, market participants, employees, suppliers, financiers, creditors, other stakeholders and the wider community. The Company has significant obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and the ASX Listing Rules to keep the market fully informed of information which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities.

This Policy applies to all directors and employees of Booktopia Group Limited (the Company) and its subsidiaries (the Group).

1.2 Purpose

The purpose of the Continuous Disclosure Policy (the Policy) is to:

- (a) reinforce the Company's commitment to its continuous disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) Listing Rules;
- (b) provide shareholders and the market with timely, balanced, direct and equal access to information issued by the Company;
- (c) describe the processes in place that enable the Company to provide shareholders and the market with timely disclosure in accordance with its disclosure obligations; and
- (d) promote investor confidence in the integrity of the Company and in the trading of its securities.

2. Legal requirements and best practice

2.1 Legal requirements

The Company is a public company listed on the ASX. It is subject to continuous disclosure requirements under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules (which are given legislative force under section 674 of the Corporations Act), in addition to the periodic and specific disclosure requirements. The key elements of the continuous disclosure obligations are set out below:

- (a) The Rule: The primary continuous disclosure obligation is contained in Listing Rule 3.1, which states that:

"Once an entity is or becomes aware of any information concerning it that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the entity's securities, the entity must immediately tell ASX that information."

(b) The Exception: LR 3.1A contains the only exception to LR 3.1:

"Listing Rule 3.1 does not apply to particular information while each of the following is satisfied in relation to the information:

3.1 A.1 One or more of the following 5 situations applies:

- It would be a breach of a law to disclose the information;
- The information concerns an incomplete proposal or negotiation;
- The information comprises matters of supposition or is insufficiently definite to warrant disclosure;
- The information is generated for internal management purposes of the entity; or
- The information is a trade secret; and

3.1A.2 The information is confidential and ASX has not formed the view that the information has ceased to be confidential; and

3.1A.3 A reasonable person would not expect the information to be disclosed."

(c) ASX may request information to correct a false market:

Listing Rule 3.1B provides that if the ASX considers that there is, or is likely to be, a false market in an entity's securities, and asks the entity to give it information to correct or prevent the false market, the entity must immediately give the ASX the information needed to correct or prevent the false market.

(d) Disclosure to ASX first: Listing Rule 15.7 further requires that an entity must not release information that is for release to the market to any person until it has given the information to the ASX, and has received an acknowledgement that the ASX has released the information to the market.

(e) Material price sensitive information: Section 677 of the Corporations Act states that, a reasonable person would be taken to expect information to have a "material effect on the price or value" of securities if the information "would, or would be likely to, influence persons who commonly invest in securities in deciding whether to acquire or dispose of" those securities.

3. Key concepts

3.1 Disclosure principle

The Company will immediately notify the ASX of any information concerning it that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, unless exempted by the Listing Rules.

3.2 Material price sensitive information

Any information concerning the Company which would, or would be likely to, influence investors in deciding whether to acquire or sell the Company securities (material price sensitive information) must be disclosed to the ASX in accordance with this Policy.

Materiality must be assessed having regard to all the relevant background information, including past announcements that have been made by the Company and other generally available information. Strategic or reputational matters clearly have the potential to be very significant issues for the Company. They can be just as important as (or even more important than) financial and other 'quantifiable' matters.

The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) (or Company Secretary at the CEO's request) may develop guidelines for each individual business unit in determining what is material price sensitive information for that business unit, for example, in the form of quantitative ranges.

Some examples of what might constitute 'material' price sensitive information are included in Attachment 1.

3.3 Confidentiality

When the Company is relying on an exception to ASX Listing Rule 3.1 (section 2.1(b) above), or is involved in a development that may eventually require reliance on an exception, appropriate confidentiality protocols must be adhered to. A leak of confidential information will immediately deny the Company the ability to withhold the information from the ASX and force the Company to make a 'premature' announcement, regardless of where the leak comes from.

Information about a matter involving the Company may cease to be confidential if there is:

- (a) a reasonably specific and reasonably accurate media or analyst report about the matter;
- (b) a reasonably specific and reasonably accurate rumour known to be circulating the market about the matter; or
- (c) a sudden and significant movement in the market price or traded volumes of the Company's securities that cannot be explained by other events or circumstances.

4. Reporting disclosable events

4.1 Material price sensitive Company announcements - the procedures

The management of the Company's external announcements depends largely on an effective system of internal reporting and announcement preparation.

The following procedures will apply in relation to all external announcements that are potentially materially price sensitive:

- (a) Identification and notification of material price sensitive information - as soon as an employee or director becomes aware of potentially material price sensitive information which has not been previously released by the Company, he or she should immediately notify the Directors and the Disclosure Committee.

- (b) Review of material price sensitive information - after receiving any potentially material price sensitive information, the Directors will review the information (in consultation with other senior executives and/or external advisers if necessary), to determine whether the information is required to be disclosed. The Board may delegate this review process to the Disclosure Committee where the full Board is unable to review the information;
- (c) Prepare external announcement - if the information is required to be disclosed, the Company Secretary, or an appropriate delegate, will prepare a draft ASX announcement. Such announcements should be factual, complete relevant, balanced and expressed in an objective and clear manner. The use of emotive or intemperate language should be avoided;
- (d) Obtain sign off - the draft ASX announcement must be signed off by the Board. The Board may delegate this approval process to the Disclosure Committee where the full Board is unable to approve the announcement;

Rapid response: If a decision quorum of the Board or Disclosure Committee is unavailable to determine whether to make or approve an ASX announcement, the following individuals may authorise the disclosure:

- the Chair of the Board; or
- if the Chair of the Board is unavailable, the chair of the Audit & Risk Committee.

Reasonable attempts must be made to contact all Directors and members of the Disclosure Committee to obtain feedback on any draft ASX announcement.

- (e) Lodge announcement - the Company Secretary, or a person appointed by the Company Secretary, will lodge the announcement with the ASX electronically;
- (f) Provide Board with copy - the Board will be provided with copies of all material market announcements after they have been made to ensure the Board has timely visibility over the information being disclosed to the market; and
- (g) Post announcement on the Company website – after receiving an acknowledgement from the ASX that the announcement has been released to the market, promptly post the announcement onto the Company's website.

In light of the Company's obligation to disclose any material price sensitive information "as soon as it becomes aware" of the information, the above steps, where required, should be taken as a matter of urgency.

4.2 Roles and responsibilities - at a glance

Employees of the Group at every level have a role to play to ensure that the Company achieves the objectives of this Policy.

The responsibilities under this Policy are divided as follows:

- (a) Disclosure Committee – comprises the CEO, Chief Financial Officer (CFO), Chief Commercial Officer (CCO), Company Secretary, Chair of the Board and Chair of the Audit and Risk Management Committee. A quorum of two members, at least one which must be Non-Executive Director, is required for the Disclosure Committee to make a disclosure decision;

- (b) Board of directors - the Board of Directors is responsible for significant ASX announcements. For the avoidance of doubt, this includes all material or price sensitive ASX announcements. The Board may delegate matters to those Non-Executive Directors represented on the Disclosure Committee;
- (c) Company Secretary - responsible for the overall administration of this Policy and all communications with the ASX;
- (d) Authorised Spokespersons - only the Company employees authorised to speak on behalf of the Company to external parties;
- (e) Employees - report any material price sensitive information to the Board and the Disclosure Committee. Observe the Company's "no comments" policy.

4.3 Role of the Disclosure Committee

Where any information is reported, the Disclosure Committee will (as appropriate):

- (a) review the information in question;
- (b) urgently seek any advice that is needed to assist the Disclosure Committee to interpret the information (provided that disclosure of the information cannot be delayed if the information is clearly materially price sensitive on its face);
- (c) determine whether any of the information is required to be disclosed to the ASX;
- (d) in consultation with the Chair of the Board and the Chair of the Audit and Risk Management Committee, consider whether it is necessary to seek a trading halt to facilitate an orderly, fair and informed market in the Company's securities and obtain approval in accordance with clause 5 of this Policy; and
- (e) coordinate the actual form of disclosure with the relevant Directors and members of management.

Reasonable attempts must be made to contact all Directors to obtain feedback on any draft disclosure.

Where any information is reported, and the Disclosure Committee determines that the circumstances are developing but the information is not presently disclosable, the Company Secretary must oversee the preparation of an appropriate draft announcement to facilitate immediate disclosure of the information if it later becomes disclosable (for example, as a result of confidentiality being lost through a 'leak').

4.4 Roles and responsibilities of the Board

The usual procedure for making disclosures under ASX Listing Rule 3.1 is through the Disclosure Committee as outlined in sections 4.1, 4.2(a) and 4.3.

Board approval and input will be required in respect of matters that are clearly within the reserved powers of the Board (and responsibility for which has not been delegated to management or to certain Non-Executive Directors) or matters that are otherwise of fundamental significance to the Company or where the Board considers appropriate. Such matters will include:

- (a) profit upgrades or downgrades;
- (b) dividend policy or declarations;
- (c) company-transforming events; and
- (d) any other matters that are determined by the Disclosure Committee or the Board to be of fundamental significance to the Company.

Where an announcement is to be considered and approved by the Board, the Disclosure Committee must look to ensure that the Board is provided with all relevant information necessary to ensure that the Board is able to fully appreciate the matters dealt with in the announcement.

Rapid response process: If an announcement that would ordinarily require Board approval must immediately be disclosed to the market in accordance with the Company's continuous disclosure obligations, all reasonable efforts must be made to have the announcement urgently considered and approved by the Board prior to release. However, if that is not possible, the usual procedure for making disclosures under section 4.1 will be followed to ensure compliance with the continuous disclosure laws. The announcement must then be considered by the Board at the first possible opportunity following its release to determine what, if any, further steps need to be taken.

It is a standing agenda item at all Board meetings to consider whether any matters reported to or discussed at a Board meeting should be disclosed to the market pursuant to the Company's continuous disclosure obligation.

4.5 Company Secretary responsibilities

The Company Secretary is responsible for the overall administration of this Policy, and in particular, is responsible for:

- (a) ensuring that the Company is compliant with its continuous disclosure obligations;
- (b) all communications with the ASX;
- (c) reviewing proposed external announcements, and consulting with appropriate members of the Board, senior executives and/or external advisers as necessary and in particular obtaining prior authorisation in relation to all continuous disclosure announcements in accordance with this Policy;
- (d) implementing reporting processes;
- (e) reporting on continuous disclosure issues regularly to the Board of the Company;

- (f) keeping a record of all ASX and other announcements that the Company has made and all correspondence with ASX and ASIC in relation to the Company's continuous disclosure obligations;
- (g) monitoring the effectiveness of the Policy, including the understanding by employees in general of the principles and spirit of continuous disclosure;
- (h) regularly reviewing this Policy for legislative changes or development of best practice, and communicating any amendments to the Company employees; and
- (i) preparing and lodging any administrative notices to ASX (such as but not limited to, ASX Appendices 2A, 3B, 3H and 3G).

4.6 Responsibilities of all employees and directors

If an employee becomes aware of any information at any time that should be considered for release to the market, it must be reported immediately to a member of the Board or the Disclosure Committee. Reports may be made with the assistance of a manager.

Similarly, where a non-executive director becomes aware of potentially material information in their capacity as a director of the Company, they must immediately report the information to the Chair of the Board or a member of the Disclosure Committee.

The Company's policy is that all potentially material information must be reported to the Board and the Disclosure Committee, even if the person reporting the information or management is of the view that it is not 'material'. The person's view on materiality can (and should) be shared with the Board and the Disclosure Committee but will not be determinative. It is important for employees to understand that just because information is reported to the Board and the Disclosure Committee that does not mean that it will be disclosed to the ASX. The Board will determine whether information is material and requires disclosure and may delegate this to the Disclosure Committee if the full Board is not available.

4.7 Authorised spokespersons

The authorised spokespersons are the Chairperson, Managing Director / CEO, CFO, CCO, Chair of the Remuneration & Nomination Committee (for matters relating to remuneration) and Company Secretary as well as other persons authorised by the CFO, CEO or Chairperson from time to time. They are the only Company employees who may speak to the media or other external parties in relation to matters subject to this Policy.

Any questions or enquiries from the financial community (whether received in writing, verbally or electronically including via the website) should be referred in the first instance to the CFO.

Authorised spokespersons should be briefed by the Company Secretary about prior disclosures by the Company before speaking with external parties.

When communicating with external parties, an authorised spokesperson:

- (a) should ensure all comments relate to information within the public domain and/or are not material, as the disclosure of confidential information, even if inadvertent, may result in the information no longer falling within the exception to Listing Rule 3.1 and therefore becoming disclosable to the ASX immediately;
- (b) may clarify information that the Company has released to the ASX but must not comment on material price sensitive information that has not previously been released to the ASX;
- (c) should limit any comments to his or her area of expertise as much as possible; and
- (d) should report to the Company Secretary after the external communication is made, to determine if any confidential information has been disclosed and whether as a consequence any disclosure to the ASX is necessary.

4.8 Joint announcements

In situations where the Company needs to issue a joint announcement with a joint venture or project partner, the Company will seek to give the partner the opportunity to review the announcement prior to its release, provided that it does not compromise the Company's ability to comply with its disclosure obligation.

4.9 Timing

The Company must not release material price sensitive information publicly until it has disclosed it to the ASX and received confirmation of its release by the ASX.

If information is to be released by the Company's Head Office and simultaneously in another geographical location (for example, by a foreign joint venture partner), the Company Secretary will consult with the relevant parties to determine how the requirement of the Listing Rules will impact on the timing of the disclosure.

5. Trading halts and suspensions from trading

In certain circumstances, the Company may need to request a trading halt or, in exceptional circumstances, a voluntary suspension, from the ASX to maintain fair, orderly and informed trading in its securities and to manage disclosure issues.

The Chair of the Board or, if the Chair of the Board is unavailable, the chair of the Audit and Risk Management Committee are authorised to call a trading halt after consultation with the Managing Director / CEO and / or CFO.

Rapid Response Process: If the Chair or the Chair of the Audit and Risk Management Committee are unavailable to call a trading halt, the following individuals are authorised to call a trading halt:

- (a) the Managing Director / CEO; or
- (b) if the Managing Director / CEO is unavailable, the CFO.

6. Financial markets communications

6.1 Communication blackout

To prevent inadvertent disclosure of material price sensitive information, the Company imposes communication blackout periods during the periods between the end of its financial reporting periods and the actual results release, whereby the Company will not discuss any financial information, broker estimates and forecasts, with institutional investors, individual investors, stockbroking analysts, or the media unless the information being discussed has previously been disclosed to the ASX.

Any proposal to deviate from this Policy must be approved in advance by the CEO and, if any briefings or meetings are held during a blackout period, there must be no discussion or provision of financial or other information in breach of the Company's continuous disclosure obligation.

6.2 Media and market speculation

The Company has a general "no comments" policy in relation to market speculation and rumours, which must be observed by employees at all times. However, the Company may issue an announcement in response to a market speculation or rumour where it is necessary to comply with the continuous disclosure obligations, for example, for the purpose of correcting factual errors or responding to a formal request from the ASX for information.

The Company will not provide the media with exclusive interviews or information that potentially contains any material price sensitive information prior to disclosing that information to the ASX. It will also not provide any information "off the record".

The Company will not disclose any information that is potentially material price sensitive information publicly under an embargo arrangement prior to release to the ASX.

Employees who are approached by the media or any external parties for information should observe the "no comments" policy and notify the Company Secretary as soon as possible.

6.3 Briefings/meetings/conference calls with analysts or investors

As part of the Company's management of investor relations and to enhance stockbroking analysts' understanding of its background and technical information, it conducts briefings with analysts or investors from time to time, including:

- one-on-one discussions (for the purpose of this Policy, this includes any communications between the Company and an analyst/investor);
- Company briefings; and
- Conference calls.

The Company's policy for conducting these briefings is not to disclose any information which is, or potentially is, material price sensitive information, that has not been announced to the ASX and the market generally. No briefing should be held during pre-results periods.

In addition:

- (a) the Company will announce any open briefings in advance via the ASX and on the Company's website. All presentation materials will be lodged with the ASX prior to the briefing and on the Company's website promptly after the briefing;
- (b) if a question raised during the briefing can only be answered by disclosing material price sensitive information which was not previously disclosed to the ASX, the Company employee must decline to answer the question, but take the question on notice; and
- (c) where the Company representative present at a briefing, meeting or presentation believes that material price sensitive information has been disclosed inadvertently, the representative must immediately report the matter to the Disclosure Committee for review and to consider whether an ASX announcement is necessary.

6.4 Broker sponsored investor conferences

The Company or its executives are from time to time invited to participate or present at broker sponsored investor conferences. The policy and protocols for the Company's briefings apply to such conferences.

6.5 Responding to analyst reports and forecasts

Stockbroking analysts frequently prepare reports on securities of listed entities, including the Company, which contain performance and financial forecasts. The Company acknowledges the importance of analyst reports in facilitating the operation of the market in an informed and efficient manner.

However, the Company is independent, and will do all things necessary to be seen as independent, to analysts. The Company will not endorse any such reports, and will restrict its comments to factual matters, underlying assumptions and information which has been previously disclosed to the ASX and the market generally, provided such comment of itself does not involve a breach of the Company's continuous disclosure obligation or amount to a selective briefing.

If a draft report has been sent to the Company for comments, it should be forwarded immediately to the CFO or Company Secretary.

The CFO will monitor the general range of analysts' forecasts relative to the Company's own internal forecasts and any forecasts previously published by the Company. If the CFO becomes aware of a divergence between the consensus of analysts' forecasts and management's own expectations, which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, the CFO will refer the matter to the Disclosure Committee to consider.

If an analyst's forecast diverges from the Company's forecasts or expectations, the Company cannot use one-on-one briefings to manage the analyst's expectations. If necessary, the Company will make an ASX announcement.

6.6 Chatrooms and social media

Company employees or associated parties must not participate in chat room and social media discussions on the internet where the subject matter relates to the Company unless authorised in writing to do so by the Managing Director/CEO, CFO or Company Secretary. Any such participation must clearly identify the participant by name and as a Company spokesperson.

6.7 Responding to unexpected questions

Company employees and executives are often faced with unexpected questions from external parties - for example, pre-arranged briefings sometimes move outside the scope of intended discussion, or Company executives may be asked for information in situations other than formal briefings.

When faced with an unexpected question, respond only with information which has previously been disclosed to the market. If answering the question requires the disclosure of information that has not been disclosed, or if in doubt as to whether or not certain information has already been disclosed, decline to answer the question. Take the question on notice so that the formal process of releasing information can operate.

Any questions or enquiries from the financial community (whether received in writing, verbally or electronically including via the website) should be referred in the first instance to the CFO.

6.8 Inadvertent disclosure of information

Disclosure of material price sensitive information to an external party prior to disclosure to the ASX constitutes a breach of Listing Rule 15.7. To prevent a breach of Listing Rule 15.7 and to minimise the consequences should such a breach occur, the following procedures apply.

A review should be done following any communications with an external party. If a Company employee becomes aware that:

- (a) there may have been inadvertent disclosure of material price sensitive information (which has not been disclosed to the ASX) during any communication with external parties; or
- (b) confidential Company information may have been leaked (whatever its source), he or she should immediately notify a member of the Disclosure Committee to consider whether an ASX announcement.

Where the confidential information disclosed during external communications is not price sensitive, the Company will still ensure equal access to that information by posting it on its website.

7. Communication with shareholders

7.1 Communication strategy

The Company aims to communicate all important information relating to the Company to its shareholders. Additionally, the Company recognises that potential investors and other interested stakeholders may wish to obtain information about the Company from time to time.

To achieve this, the Company communicates information regularly to shareholders and other stakeholders through a range of forums and publications. The Company also has in place an investor relations program to facilitate communication with investors.

Measures for communicating important aspects of the Company's affairs include:

- (a) corporate website – www.booktopia.com.au/investor-centre/
- (b) annual general meeting;
- (c) annual report;
- (d) ASX announcements;
- (e) alerts;
- (f) presentations; and
- (g) share registry – Link Group

7.2 Corporate website

One of the Company's key communication tools is its website. The Company endeavours to keep its website up-to-date. The following information will be available on the Company's website:

- (a) information about directors and senior executives;
- (b) the Company's constitution;
- (c) the Company's Board and Board Committee charters;
- (d) the Company's corporate governance policies;
- (e) a statement of the Company's values;
- (f) the Company's annual directors' reports, financial statements and other corporate reports;
- (g) copies of the Company's announcements to ASX;
- (h) notices of meetings of shareholders and any accompanying documents;
- (i) copies of any documents tabled at meetings of shareholders;
- (j) any documents made available at investor or analyst presentations;
- (k) the time, venue and other details for results presentations and the Annual General Meeting (AGM);
- (l) media releases made by the Company;

- (m) contact details for the securities registry and for shareholder enquiries; and
- (n) shareholder forms.

The website contains a facility for shareholders to direct enquiries to the Company or its share registry

The Company Secretary must review the relevant information prior to it being posted on the website. The shareholder information section of the website will be reviewed continuously to ensure that it is up-to-date, complete and accurate.

7.3 Electronic information

The Company recognises that it is often efficient to communicate electronically and accordingly shareholders will be given the option to receive communications from, and send communications to, the Company and its share registry electronically.

7.4 AGM and other shareholder meetings

The meetings of shareholders of the Company represent an opportunity for the Company to provide information to its shareholders. The Company encourages attendance at, and participation in, general meetings and in particular its AGM each year.

Shareholders are encouraged to lodge proxies electronically. The Company's external auditor will attend the AGM and be available to answer shareholder questions about the conduct of the audit, and the preparation and content of the auditor's report. The external auditor will also be allowed a reasonable opportunity to answer written questions submitted by shareholders to the auditor in accordance with the Corporations Act.

8. Other matters

8.1 Advisers and consultants

The Company will require consultants and professional advisers engaged by the Company or any of its subsidiaries to adhere to this Policy. The Company may ask such consultants and professional advisers to sign a confidentiality agreement.

8.2 Breach of Policy

The Company takes continuous disclosure very seriously. Non-compliance with continuous disclosure obligations may constitute a breach of the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules. This may result in fines for the Company, personal liabilities for directors and other officers, and damage to the Company's reputation.

Breaches of this Policy may result in disciplinary action against the employee including dismissal in serious cases.

8.3 Further information

You should read this Policy carefully and familiarise yourself with the policy and procedures detailed.

The Company will review this Policy regularly as legislative requirements change and best practice for continuous disclosure evolves. The Company Secretary will communicate any amendments to Company employees.

If you have any questions on the Policy, or require further information, contact the Company Secretary.

8.4 Adoption of Policy and Board review

This Policy was adopted by the Board on October 30, 2020, and is amended from time to time and takes effect from that date and replaces any previous policy in this regard.

The Board will review this Policy periodically (and at least every 2 years). The Company Secretary will communicate any amendments to employees as appropriate.

Attachment 1 - Material effect on the price of securities

A reasonable person is taken to expect information to have a material effect on the price or value of securities if it would, or would be likely to, influence persons who commonly invest in securities in deciding whether or not to subscribe for, buy or sell the securities.

The following provides a guide as to the type of information that is likely to require disclosure. This is not an exhaustive list. The determination of whether certain information is material price sensitive information which is subject to continuous disclosure necessarily involves the use of judgment. There will inevitably be situations where the issue is less than clear. If you come across information which potentially falls within the category of material price sensitive information, you should treat it as if it is material price sensitive information and immediately inform a member of the Disclosure Committee.

Matters which generally require disclosure include:

- (a) a material change in the Company's financial forecasts or expectations;
- (b) a recommendation or declaration of a dividend or distribution, or a decision one will not be declared;
- (c) changes in the Board of Directors, senior executives or auditors. In the case of the appointment of a new CEO or executive director, disclosure of the key terms and conditions of the relevant contract entered into (e.g. components of pay package) will be necessary;
- (d) a change in the Company's accounting policy;
- (e) an agreement between the Company (or a related party or subsidiary) and a director (or a related party of the director);
- (f) events regarding the Company's shares, securities, financing or any default on any securities (e.g. under or over subscriptions to an issue of securities, share repurchase program);
- (g) information about the beneficial ownership of shares obtained by the Company under the Corporations Act;
- (h) giving or receiving a notice of intention to make a takeover offer;
- (i) a transaction for which the consideration payable or receivable is a significant proportion of the written down value of the Company's consolidated assets;
- (j) significant mergers, acquisitions/divestments, joint ventures or changes in assets;
- (k) significant developments in regard to new projects or ventures;
- (l) major new contracts, orders, or changes in suppliers or customers;
- (m) significant changes in products, product lines, supplies or inventory;
- (n) industry issues that may have a material impact on the Company;
- (o) significant changes in technology or the application of technology which could affect business;

- (p) significant legal proceedings against or allegation of any breach of the law, whether civil or criminal, by the Company;
- (q) decisions on significant issues affecting the Company by regulatory bodies in Australia (such as the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission and Takeovers Panel, or other bodies relevant to the Company);
- (r) natural disasters or accidents that have particular relevance to the businesses of the Company or its suppliers;
- (s) the appointment of a receiver, manager, liquidator or administrator in respect of any loan, trade credit, trade debt, borrowing or securities held by the Company or any of its subsidiaries; or
- (t) a copy of a document lodged with an overseas stock exchange or regulator containing market sensitive information not previously disclosed to the ASX.
